

Caglia Environmental Charity Golf Tournament Benefits Fresno Metro Ministries' Food to Share Program

Caglia Environmental partners with Food to Share to reduce food insecurity by providing nutritious food to needy families

Fresno – Join Caglia Environmental for a great time at the beautiful Belmont Country Club May 20, 2019 to raise funds for the Food to Share program in Fresno County.

"Our charity golf tournament will bring the community together to have a great day on the course while raising money for a terrific organization," said Rich Caglia, head of Corporate Development and the Caglia family's spokesman. "Food to Share does a fantastic job diverting good food from farms and food processors and into the hands of community members in need."

Food to Share is a community based partnership of local organizations that work together to reduce food insecurity in Fresno County by making high quality food available to underserved areas. Additionally, by redirecting nutritious food away from landfills and into the hands of needy families, Food to Share contributes to better air quality through the reduction of greenhouse gases that are a natural byproduct of food disposal in landfills.

The golf tournament's food, drink and fun begin with breakfast/registration at 8:00 am and a shotgun start at 9:00 am. Lunch and awards are at 1:00 pm.

Space is limited. However, sponsorships and entries are still available. For more information and registration, go here: www.cagliaenvironmental.com

For questions, contact:

Nick Caglia at (559) 994-6214 or nickc@cagliarecycling.com

Mike Ledieff at (559) 819-0536 or mikeL@cagliarecycling.com

Caglia Environmental is committed to preserving and protecting the environment by providing advanced solid waste and recycling services to communities in the Central Valley.

###

